

International Commercial Graduate

Odense, June 16th 2021

Do you want to kickstart your career by learning from the best and brightest minds in the industry? Are you the best of your class and are you confident, open-minded and have a winning personality? Would you like to become a part of an international organization with the ambition to help people grow?

Become our International Commercial Graduate

Juliana Drivhuse A/S is a Danish design and value creating company and one of the world's leading manufacturer of greenhouses. We experience significant demand for our products and focus massively on development from good to great and become global market leader by giving an outstanding customer experience. In order to stay world leading, it is important for us to develop and engage young ambitious talents and help release their potential. Therefore, we have decided to launch a brand-new graduate program, where you will get a unique opportunity to become one of the pioneers and hereby impact our future business.

About the graduate program

The international Commercial Graduate Program is a 2-year journey consisting of 4 different rotations, where you will try out various positions across the different functions and departments within our business for both greenhouses and for mailboxes. The position will be working out from our headquarter in Odense. Each rotation will enhance your business understanding and provide you with the opportunity to develop, implement and commercialize solutions in collaboration with some of the brightest minds. In cooperation we will plan the two first rotations before you start, this may include a rotation abroad to Cheltenham, Gloucestershire in the UK, Munich or Buchholz in Germany. As our graduate you will take control of your own career, and we will tailor the program individually to you, to meet your ambitions and expectations.

You will start the program in our Customer Service center, and you will work with product management projects. Besides product management and customer service, you will also have the opportunity to gain insights from our Sales, Finance, Marketing, Communications or Supply chain. During the full program you will report to a functional manager, and you will have a mentor from the Juliana management team.

Personality matters

We are looking for an ambitious and outgoing International Commercial Graduate, who can help shape our future and hereby contribute to the further success of Juliana Drivhuse. Towards stakeholders you have a great influence as you understand the importance of listening and creating value for them. You are a great facilitator who manage to communicate with different target groups – also in an international setting. You are practically minded and great at thinking in systems and understand how intelligent solutions can create value in the different parts of the customer journey.

You have recently completed or are close to completing your master's degree. In addition, you have participated in case competitions with good results and had a semester or an internship abroad, or other relevant experience. Education in Business, Economics, value chain or similar will be relevant in the position.

As a person, you are ambitious and want to kickstart your career in a growth-oriented organization where no two days are alike. You strive to deliver results independently but also enjoy the synergies of teamwork. You have a commercial mindset and the ability to challenge status quo. In addition, you are curious, quick to acquire new knowledge and not afraid of asking questions. It is natural for you to work in a structured and systematic way, why your tasks are always of high quality and completed within the deadline. You are positive and outgoing, and you always meet people with a smile. Finally, you are characterized by being energetic, self-driving and see opportunities and possibilities rather than limitations.

You are fluent in English and in Danish in both written and oral, German will be an asset.

What do we offer a graduate?

As our new International Commercial Graduate, we offer you an opportunity to kickstart your career in an international organization where, there is no limit beyond the ones you set for yourself. You will have the unique chance to develop your toolbox and gain valuable field expertise as you work closely with talented colleagues. It is our goal to boost your professional and personal development to prepare you to move into a key role in our greenhouse or mailbox business at the end of the program.

We offer flexible working hours and several employee benefits as canteen, free fruit, massage, and we have a very active employee association.
